

LOVE

It's been a long day and you're trying to get home
I've got you on the telephone
Such a long day and everything you see
You've seen a million times before

Your voice sounds sweet like it does to me
But there's something lying in between
I know we both know there's nothing but miles
Paved between you and me

All that you want to feel is love
Pouring all over you
Love
Until your dying day

The sun goes down like it has for years
Hasn't risen since you said goodbye
All those pretty things that you to make you smile
Now they're all making me cry
I'm so damn sick from the words that I said
I can't look myself in the eye
You'd think that I'd learn from everyone I've hurt
Nothing comes from making you cry

All that I want to feel is love
Pouring all over me
Love until your dying day

What can I do, lost without you
What can I say, You're gone away

All that you want to feel, all that I want to feel
Is Love, pouring all over you
Love, until your dying day
