

Runaway 1985

Not much to do
so, I'm kickin' tiny pebbles dreaming of the big rocks
The sun beams on me
I stare straight back counting the stars in my eyes
Then it starts to burn
My head goes down all I'm seeing are the holes in my shoes
What I didn't see
Were my feet inside waiting to take me to

You should runaway
Follow all the rainbows instead of all the rain
One day you'll see in time
I'll get away
Run along, run along and hide
I think I heard your name

Now I gotta be someone, someone who goes and stays gone
There's a long stone driveway, I get on my bike and I pack up my dog
Peddle on the loose rocks, hold tight
The wind from the trucks cheer me on The cheering stops when the lamps go out, I go home cause I'm afraid of the dark

Why'd you runaway?
You never see the rainbows, you only see the rain
One day, you'll see in time
You'll go away
Run along, run along and hide
I think I heard your name

You should runaway
Follow all the rainbows instead of all the rain
One day you'll see in time
I'll get away
Run along, run along and hide
I think I heard your name
